“SHARING THE JOURNEY”

Volume 36

December/January 2013/2014

God's Messengers

As the Christmas season gets under way with the myriad of ads and promos trying to sell us billions of dollars worth of stuff we don't need, we also hear the warnings of how lives are stressed and stretched to the breaking point as folks fight to make deadlines and complete all their frantic shopping and preparations before the big day. There will be angry buyers screaming at others who get in their way; many store employees will not have a merry twinkle in their eyes as they attend to unhappy shoppers; and even our children will be growling in hopes of convincing some listening ear to get them that one perfect gift that they believe will satisfy them forever, or at least until the garbage trucks arrive to carry off the boxes and wrapping paper that will serve as a sign that another year full of burdens and pressure is about to begin.

By transforming a holy day into a glitzy, blinding, and dizzying free-for-all, we have all but silenced the joyful message of peace and love announced by God's faithful messengers centuries ago. There are those who will not even mention the name of Christ during the season. To them these hectic weeks are nothing more than a winter break from school and work or a buying circus meant to boost the economy. It is for parties, eating, drinking, and indulgence of every sort. In fact, for many individuals and in many ways it is not unlike Rome's pagan love feasts that celebrated "food for the belly and the belly for food." The philosophy states that nothing should be held back, the wants and desires of the individual are to be met, and personal pleasure and gain is to guide the course of the season.

We shouldn't really be surprised by such attitudes and behavior in the world at large. Someone who has not yet walked with his hand in the tender hand of the Son of God is still far separated from the love of the Lord and unable to understand the true meaning of Christmas. He is the one who has eyes but cannot see and ears that are unable to hear.

However, there are those of us who have walked with the Master. We have heard His call, and we know the truth. If we get caught up in the unbridled madness of a stressful commercial season, then we are the ones guilty of despising the name and cause of Jesus Christ. We have tasted His goodness and experienced His grace. We are to be the light and the salt to those stumbling in darkness.

Let's help remind one another of this as we gather together in our churches and homes. Let's prepare ourselves mentally and spiritually before we step into the lines with thousands of stressed angry buyers. You see, we are God's holy messengers today, and we are called to joyfully stand before the hopeless masses and proclaim "do not be afraid, for we bring you good news of great joy."

Pray for those in line with you. Step back far enough to see them as God does. He loves them, and it truly grieves His Spirit when Christ followers fail to let the Spirit of Christ shine through them to light the way. Go the extra mile, be an example of hope and joy, and share a word about the One who celebrates a birthday on Christmas day.

The story of Adam and Eve was being explained in the children's Sunday School class. Following the story, the children were asked to draw a picture that would illustrate the story. Little Bobby drew a picture of a car with three people in it. In the front seat was a man and in the back seat, a man and a woman. The teacher was at a loss to understand how this illustrated the lesson of Adam and Eve. Little Bobby explained, "Why, this is God driving Adam and Eve out of the garden!"

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone for their cards, visits, and prayers during the loss of my mother, Betty Ayers. Everything was so appreciated.

Brenda and Dennis Ferguson

These words cannot adequately express our deep appreciation for the way you have stood with us during the last several months. Your prayers, cards, e-mails, phone calls, and financial support have strengthened and encouraged us in a most powerful way. Not all churches would have shown this measure of love and patience. Thank you for your sweet spirit.

Steve & Barbara Manuel

Dear Church Family, thank you once again for the exceedingly generous way you have expressed your love. Barbara and I are so blessed by your concern and desire to walk along beside us each step of the way. You have helped to lift a heavy burden. Lord willing, we will see you in December. Steve & Barbara Manuel

¹³ Suddenly a great company of the heavenly host appeared with the angel, praising God and saying,
¹⁴ "Glory to God in the highest heaven, and on earth peace to those on whom his favor rests."
¹⁵ When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, "Let's go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has told us about." ¹⁶ So they hurried off and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby, who was lying in the manger. ¹⁷ When they spread the word concerning what had been told them about this child, ¹⁸ and all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds said to them. ¹⁹ But Mary treasured up all these things and pondered them in her heart. ²⁰ The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen, which were just as they had been told.
